

Unspoken Words

I try to say the words, but they won't come out.
I need you all to hear me out.
I messed up big, I can own that now.
I want us to connect, but I don't know how?

Can you hear me shout? Can you hear me scream?
Is all this just a horrible dream?
I've been beggin' at your feet to just let me in;
doors open, words spoken, so let's begin.

Chorus

I'm sorry...is all that I can say
Standing here alone trying to find my very way.
It's like I'm floating in a mist. Do you even remember that I still exist?

I'm begging at your feet to just hear me now.
Can you find a way to forgive somehow?
To guide me through this storm I'm in,
to maybe let a new life begin?

Chorus

I'm sorry...is all that I can say
I'm standing here alone trying to find my very way.
It's like I'm floating in a mist. Do you even remember that I still exist?
I'm here. I'm here.
And losing you is my greatest fear.

I try and say the words but they won't come out
I need you all to hear me out.
I'm sorry.